

SAFETY COURSES

Workplace Fire Safety Courses

We are a training provider specialising in workplace fire safety.

These courses can be run separately and in sequence, depending on the people or the position they hold in the workplace

Fire Extinguishers, Fire Wardens and Small Emergencies in the Workplace

Fire Extinguishers Unit Standard 3271

This is a must for all employees in the Workplace. It covers both the theory and practical aspects of putting out small fires with hand held extinguishers.

Covers: Theory of fire, correct extinguishers to use, correct actions to take and a practical exercise to put out your own fire. This will give you confidence for any emergency involving fire.

Fire Wardens Unit Standard 18408

For all those who have been given the role of a Fire Warden , this course covers you legal obligations and will give you the training to carry out our role as a Fire Warden.

Covers: Legislation, duties and responsibilities of a warden and basic Fire Safety procedures.

Small Emergencies in the Workplace Unit Standard 16800

In this course we combine other emergencies which could occur in the workplace that employees could handle safely with equipment they have access to.

Covers: Basic first aid, chemical safety, fires, emergency safety procedures, injury reports and team work.

Supervisors and people in charge of a workplace can do all of these units to give them good Health and Safety theoretical and practical training.
